

I'am feeling trapped, trapped in expectations
Nights were like a sporadic fever, mornings didn't exist
But when you look away, look away to find another truth, life acts, switch place

I see that you look away, to find another truth in me truth in me.

We are in this sunken place, where it's so hard to find a breach Selfish thinking lasts. A bridge to the forsaken land.

I see that you look away, to find another truth in me truth in me.

I depend on you, do not turn your cheek
Soulless city falls, a forceful life emerges
Wouldn't release me, wouldn't release yourself, it's a scorn to my life, avoid all entanglements

Finish line, finish life, never quite right, never so bright
No way no way no way no way

I see that you look away, to find another truth in me truth in me.
